WHAT COULD GOD
DO THIS YEAR?

Even now, he is at work.

A new year comes with the sense of a blank page, a fresh new start, a story waiting to be written—days withholding mystery that is waiting to be unveiled. The most exciting part is that when you invite God in, your year becomes miraculously more than you could dream up on your own. Whether it is filled with joy or sorrow, grief or excitement, if God is with you throughout these days, you can count on this: his mercy is new every morning, his redemption interweaves into every broken moment, and his kingdom comes where his will is sought.

God has a new story written for your year. Let these days ahead become a time to dwell on the beauty of God's intentional plan for your life. As you step into 2025, seek his face above all else and let the empty pages of your new year become space for God to move.
